

Explore the Georgetown/Ripley area where stories of the Underground Railroad and Ulysses S. Grant await. This southwest Ohio area provides a wealth of historic sites, as well as local restaurants, shops and wineries to complete your visit.

About The Ohio Historical Society

The Ohio Historical Society is the caretaker of our state's heritage—providing a wide array of statewide services and programs related to collecting, preserving and interpreting Ohio's history. This nonprofit organization's commitment to education benefits thousands of children and provides lifelong learning opportunities for all ages.

Working Together

The Ohio Historical Society oversees 58 historic sites throughout the state. Most of those sites are managed on behalf of the society by local groups committed to preserving the stories of their communities.

OHS is proud to work with these local groups to help bring to life the varied and fascinating history of Ohio.

OHIO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Ohio Historical Society
1982 Velma Ave.
Columbus OH 43211
614.297.2300
800.686.6124
ohiohistory.org

Historic
Southwest Ohio

Stories along the path to freedom

LEFT: GEN. GRANT.

